Who we are ....

Crescendo Partners (Crescendo) offers you a unique and exciting career opportunity. A career at Crescendo will offer a broad range of opportunities in the areas of strategy consulting, investment banking advisory and private equity transactions.

Crescendo is an elite consulting firm offering executive advice to major corporations and private equity firms, in Australia and in an extensive array of global markets.

Globally, we have a strategic relationship with Monitor, one of the premier strategy consulting firms in the world. We work together to give each other access to a broader geographic coverage, and to leverage a broader base of development in intellectual capital.

Crescendo is differentiated from any other consulting business in Australia in that we also have a Private Equity business called Crescendo Partners Capital. This part of Crescendo seeks to invest equity capital in established, high growth SMEs in the form of expansion capital and management buy-outs/ins.

What will you do....

As a consultant at Crescendo, you will be working in a dynamic environment that will continually challenge and reward you. You will be involved in and contribute to high profile projects for high-profile clients whilst working with the most talented people in the industry.

On a project, you will be asked to work in a team environment and perform a wide variety of tasks. You may be involved in gathering market and competitive intelligence, market sizing, analyzing a company’s financial position, conducting interviews to gain external market perspectives and constructing a presentation to communicate analysis & recommendations to clients.

What we are looking for ....

At Crescendo we employ a diverse group of people from a wide variety of backgrounds. For graduates we look to hire and retain the best.

You are a high achieving final year student or recent graduate with an exceptional academic record, typically of distinction average or above. Our graduate hires come from a variety of degree disciplines and may possess double degrees and/or honours studies. You will also have demonstrated work experience and participation in extra-curricular activities.

In addition, we look for:

- superior problem solving and analytic skills;
- imagination and creativity;
- judgment and maturity;
- interpersonal skills;
- personal impact;
- ability to work in a team environment;
- high energy and a positive attitude;
- ethics and integrity; and
